

Your mission is to protect and serve. Ours is to ensure you have Information Technology to do it.

DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE

The NIH Information Technology Acquisition and Assessment Center (NITAAC) has long supported the DoD with buying quality information technology (IT) products, services and solutions fast: an average of only 30-45 days for task orders; 10 days or less for delivery orders. Our federal Government-Wide Acquisition Contract (GWAC) vehicles feature top defense contractors; companies that deliver speed, value and innovation to the warfighter. Since the GWAC vehicles were last awarded in 2012, the DoD has obligated over $9 Billion in products and services through NITAAC's federal IT acquisition program.

As the DoD moves forward with its small business strategy, NITAAC is here to help. With over 300 Contract Holders in five socioeconomic categories between CIO-SP3 Small Business and CIO-CS, NITAAC offers a diverse selection of innovative goods and services.

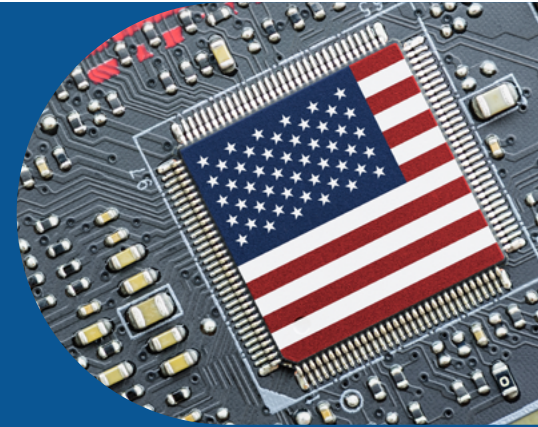

ASSISTED ACQUISITIONS

IT procurement can be a challenging process, especially when you're short on help. In addition to offering a variety of Contract Holders with innovative products and solutions, NITAAC offers two ways to make an award. The DoD can make a direct award or NITAAC offers a one-stop service through our Assisted Acquisitions. You'll benefit from the capabilities and expertise of our Contracting Officers and the efficiencies and economies of our GWACs. Plus, NITAAC holds an 801 certification so there's no need for waivers. It's a win-win for all.
